*In thy lone and long night-watches, sh
above and sea below,
Thou didst learn a higher wisdom tha
the babbling schoolmen know;
God's stars and silence taught thee, o
his angels only can,
That the one sole sacred thing beneat
the cope of heaven is man.*

When the flood of summer visitors return to the smog and confusion of their urban existence, they leave in their wake a Cape Cod, peaceful and uniquely beautiful, to be experienced by the students and faculty of Cape Cod Community College with a fullness any tourist is likely to miss.

The college location on Cape Cod has been a primary factor in encouraging well-qualified professors to forfeit the higher salaries offered by many other institutions, and come to teach at Cape Cod Community College. Cape Cod also attracts students of widely varied backgrounds and interests, thus making a career at C's educational in more than just an academic sense.

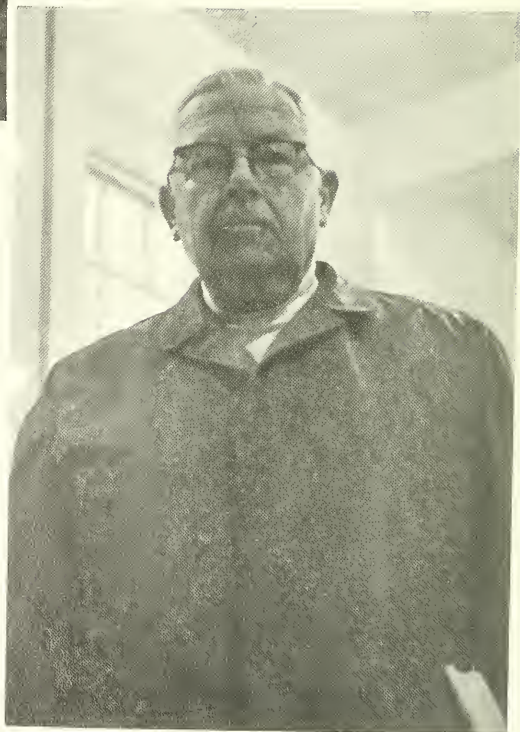

The serenity of off-season Cape Cod holds perhaps a greater attraction for our generation, in this age of tumultuous change, with its increased personal and social responsibility, than any that has gone before. Thus, we appreciate the emotion expressed by Henry David Thoreau — whose writings hold new significance for today's society — when he wrote, standing on the shore of Cape Cod: "A man may stand there and put all America behind him."

DR. E. JUSTIN HILLS
B.A., M.A., Ph.D.

Dedication

The yearbook staff of Cape Cod Community College knows that it echoes completely the sentiment of the students graduating this year in dedicating this year's issue to Dr. E. Justin Hills, who will retire from our faculty this June.

When Dr. Hills joined our teaching staff in 1962, he brought with him a wealth of experience gained from a career as both professor and scholar in the field of mathematics.

In addition to his having been teacher and mentor to students at five colleges throughout the country, Dr. Hills has contributed three published books to the field of mathematics, has contributed articles to the Lincoln Library Encyclopedia, and has devised new methods in slide rule development.

Dr. Hills will leave us and his full-time teaching career, yet he will continue his scholarly vocation in the preparation of still another book.

We feel honored that Dr. Hills considers his years at Cape Cod Community College his "most rewarding experience."

E. CARLETON NICKERSON, A.B., M.B.A.

An underlying purpose and goal of the College is "to help awaken the intellect and spirit of the individual to the end that he may live a richer life, bring his maximum ability to his chosen career, and apply an enlightened understanding to civic responsibilities." This is a common end sought by most students and faculty alike.

Although the College facilities are by no means the fanciest, this is more than offset by the quality of the teaching, the cooperative spirit which pervades the student body, faculty and administration, and the growing sense of involvement. And soon there will be a new campus and college, to which we will transfer these strengths.

Here you have been faced with a rigorous academic program in an atmosphere of few rules and substantial freedom for the individual. This has required the development of self-discipline, which it has been a joy to watch flower.

To all of you, "Good luck."

E. CARLETON NICKERSON
President

To the Seniors:

As you leave Cape Cod Community College, you may be confident of our continued interest in your education — both formal and informal. Just as a store is known by its product, the reputation of a college is dependent, in a large measure, upon the success of its graduates. We are extremely proud to add the names of the Class of 1969 to the list of those graduates who have preceded you and who have won the reputation for the college which you have enjoyed.

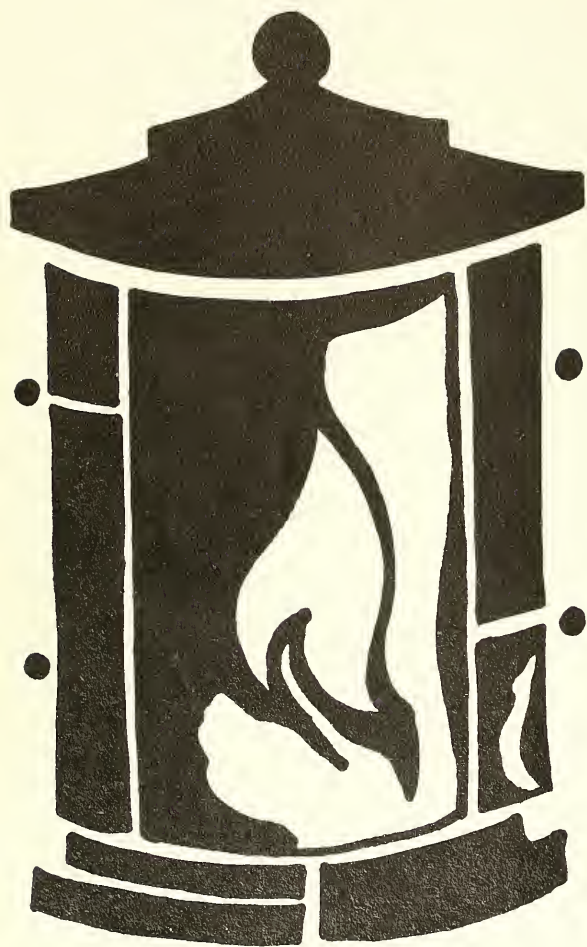

ELINOR E. HANNA
Dean of the College

To the Graduates of 1969:

Obviously you have our sincere congratulations! More than that, however, we would like to issue the challenge which is inherent in the very idea of graduation. We talk of "Commencement" which actually means to "begin." This is the challenge! Begin now to use the fruits of your graduation to attain even higher things. Take your place in an institution of higher learning, enter the business world or whatever you wish, but as you do so, do it with the conviction that your graduation signifies that you are ready to "begin!"

JOHN L. ROCHE

Faculty

Every piece of marble has a statue in it waiting to be released by a man of sufficient skill to chip away the unnecessary parts. Just as the sculptor is to the marble, so is education to the soul. It releases it. For only educated men are free men. You cannot create a statue by smashing the marble with a hammer, and you cannot by force of arms release the spirit or the soul of man.

Maintenance

This bookstore is going to "Pot"!

I can't see any foldout!

We've got to stop meeting like this.

I dreamed I was Homecoming Queen in my Maidenform Bra.

Oh! Is that what a bippy is?

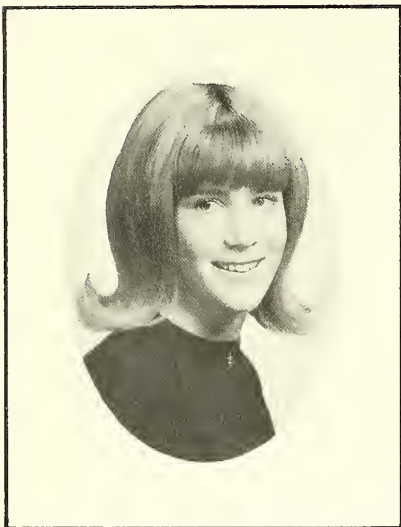

Look what I got for 15 cents!

Blow in my ear . . .

. . . and I'll follow you anywhere.

In Memory of Debbie Carey

The sun came Skipping and Jumping
Across the morning clouds.
In it was her face,
Smiling and Laughing.

The sun stood Burning and Scorching
At those morning clouds.
In it was her face,
Crying and Sobbing.

And I saw her face in the sun
As it sank below the horizon.

On each she left a mark
As death casts its shadows
Even in the dark.

Academía

The purpose of Academia is to provide a forum for intellectual discussion. Any student, day or evening, who is interested may join and guests may attend.

Academia holds a dinner meeting twice monthly. The topic for discussion may be presented by a guest speaker, a faculty member, or a student at the college. All students are most warmly invited to attend. It is your opportunity to express your views on matters pertinent to the problems and interests facing young Americans today.

This year's topics included:

"The Relevance of Machiavelli in 1968."

"Sexual Repression in a Neurotic Society."

"Drug Law Reform?"

"An Archaeological Expedition to Scotland."

4 C's BOWLING CLUB

Five men and five women from the bowling league attended the collegiate bowling tournament at Holy Cross College in Worcester on February 7 and 8, 1969. Thirteen colleges participated in the men's games and seven colleges in the women's games. Cape Cod was the only community college at the tournament.

Basketball

THE HELMSMEN

The 1968-1969 Cape Cod Community College basketball team had a 50/50 win-loss season. Under the leadership of co-captains Larry Peterson and Bob Eldredge the team fought its way through the season.

Coach John Roche, in his novice season, has gained valuable experience in coordinating a team.

Despite many heartbreaking losses, the team showed great hustle and spirit on the courts.

Cheerleaders

CHEERLEADERS

Precision, poise, spirit and, above all, pride — pride in their school and in their team — this is what our cheerleaders represent. These twelve girls, working together, practiced hours in order to be ready for the games and at their best. Win or lose, the team could depend on these twelve girls being behind the team through the very end.

Circle "K"

The Circle K club is now in its first year as a charter member of the Circle K International. It has held a Slave auction, Bicycle Safety rally, and operated a change program in the Student commons. It has also supported the Blood drive and helped in Freshman orientation.

This year's club was headed by: Larry Peterson, Pres., Mike Tylor, Vice Pres., Steve Duffy, Sec. and Treas.

Every college needs a service club and Cape Cod Community now has one. In May of 1968 the club received its charter from the International Circle K Organization given to us by our sponsor, the Hyannis Kiwanis Club.

The Circle K also holds inter-club meetings with other colleges, which support all conventions of the International Circle K.

The Circle K is the largest college organization in existence. It provides an opportunity for leadership, good citizenship, education, and fellowship.

Intramural Program

INTRAMURAL PROGRAM AT C. C. C. C.

The Intramural Program provides an outlet for wholesome recreational and sports activities at the South Street Armory four days a week.

Registered students have an opportunity to take part in free play or engage in organized activities such as I-M Flag football, basketball or softball leagues. A girls' tumbling club, a sailing club, swimming and water safety activities are also available when in season. A certified First Aid class is conducted during the school year.

Free activities include table tennis, tumbling, weight lifting, and badminton.

A Sports Banquet in the Spring brings to a climax all sports and recreational activities at the college.

The activities of the sea-going "Salts" included ice boating, life saving instruction and enlightened seminars given by President Nickerson.

Lectures by Commander Preble and other distinguished guests presented them with the fundamental rules of seamanship and safety on the rough seas.

The Club eagerly awaits the arrival of warmer weather and a soft breeze when they will once again be able to hoist their sails!

The Vets Club was organized to bring student veterans together in a spirit of service to the school and the community. Among the many activities sponsored by the club were a dinner and debate on "The New Morality and the Fall of Rome," a Christmas party for state wards, held at the Chat-ham V. F. W., and a ski week-end for the student body in New Hampshire. The members also enjoyed many hours of good fellowship at some of the nicer local watering spots.

The purpose of the Student Senate is to coordinate activities between the student body, the faculty, and administration. The Senate is made up of members from both classes, and in this way directly represents the entire student body.

The Senate plans all social activities for the college, and allocates needed funds to the various clubs of the college. The Student Senate also presents beneficial student requests to the faculty.

Through the success of these activities throughout the year, these students have proven their ability to administer the affairs pertaining to their office.

Freshmen Class Officers

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

President, Kevin Carr
Vice Pres., Bob Crane
Treas., Mary Jane MacDonald

Persons in high station are not only answerable for their own conduct, but for the example they should hold out to others. Coupled with these responsibilities are the advantages gained from the experience in student organizations, which instills a great sense of participation and identification.

Union for Student Involvement

U. S. I.

In October of 1968, the Union for Student Involvement was formed by a small group of students who felt that campus apathy and alienation had to be checked. From that small core of students, U. S. I. has grown into a student-faculty organization with a current membership of approximately fifty students and twenty faculty members. U. S. I. has a three-fold purpose: to promote intellectual and cultural interests at 4C's; to develop leadership and responsibility among students; and to motivate an interest among students concerning their role in the college community and the world around them. The organization has enjoyed a close working relationship with the Student Senate, the faculty, and the administration. Our goal is student involvement. Our aim is progressive action. Accomplishments this year have been the sponsoring of a Used Book Sale; debates; and the lengthening of the Christmas vacation.

I shouldn't have used Hai Karate
this morning.

Did you know that penguins
eat stones to keep their balance?

Whatever turns you on.

And then He . . . !

What's the answer to #5?

Should a gentleman offer a
Tipperillo to a lady?

Day tripper.
